Good afternoon,

Missouri Farmers Cares has announced that the call for nominations for the 2023 Missouri Leopold Conservation Award is open until June 30, 2023. Attached is a printable version of the announcement. Full information and a nomination portal can be found at <http://mofarmerscare.com/lca/>.

Six landowners focused on private, working land stewardship have been featured as recipients of the Missouri Leopold Conservation Award program. Their stories can be seen and shared from: <https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLYfIWZm1jdqWipKi9-crlCU-4POsH-E7E>

There are numerous landowners around the state deserving of this prestigious award. Please share this information with your cooperators that you believe deserve the recognition or even consider nominating someone. If you look at the past winners most of them have some type of connection to the soil and water program. Two are past presidents of the MASWCD.

Thank you,
